Re: NECC MDL No. 2419 – Non-Bellwether Box Hill Cases

Dear Judge Boal:

In accordance with the Court's comments regarding the Box Hill cases during the April 20, 2017 Case Management Conference, counsel for the claimants and the defendants in the Box Hill cases have been focusing their efforts on case-specific discovery required under Your Honor's Third Amended Order Setting Discovery Deadlines [Dkt. 3301] ("Discovery Deadlines Order") on the two cases selected as potential bellwether cases by both Plaintiffs and Defendants, namely the Dreish personal injury case and the Kashi survival/wrongful death case. So as to not leave open and hanging the parties' discovery obligations regarding the six other Box Hill cases before the Court, counsel have conferred and agreed that the Court should be requested to enter an order staying the Discovery Deadlines Order as to the non-bellwether Box Hill cases. A proposed consent order is submitted herewith for the Court's consideration. Its terms and form have been agreed to by counsel for both sides in the Box Hill cases.

On behalf of all parties in the Box Hill's cases, we ask the Court to consider and enter the proposed stay order.

Respectfully yours,

MICHAEL COREN

Attorney for Plaintiff Meghan Handy.
